This programme is designed for those new to the challenges of middle management, particularly foreign trained or newly qualified teachers. It provides practical guidance on taking on a management role along with subject or pastoral-specific tutoring. The programme involves a series of twilight workshops

If your new leadership or management role has presented you with a whole new set of challenges – this programme is designed to give you the knowledge and skills you need to move forward with confidence. You will leave with a clear focus on what you need to know and do to effectively manage your department. This course is ideal for those who have to learn on the job.

Programme aims

- Exploring your London school – its systems, processes and protocols
- Developing a way to deal with the successes of your new job whilst ensuring your continued impact on learning in your classroom
- Building your knowledge and awareness of the issues your new role is going to raise – and how to handle them
- Developing skills in evaluation and preparation for Ofsted inspection
- Introducing 'hot topics' in the English education system

Programme features

- This is a short immersion course that involves a series of workshops with a flexible delivery structure to suit your school needs.
- Access to experienced facilitators/mentors to provide specific support, i.e. subject/departmental
- The setting of short, medium and long-term development plans
- Delivered by currently serving, experienced practitioners with expertise in London schools
