

About Learning Networks Exchange

Learning Networks Exchange (LNE) is designed to support school and network leaders in sharing the learning which has emerged from NCSL's Networked Learning Communities programme and other network-based initiatives over the past three years.

How does LNE work?

LNE provides an online discussion forum and learning exchange facility – where participants can share in the practice of over 100 school networks nationwide. You can access up-to-date reviews of network activity and download the latest publications designed for school leaders and others involved in the leadership and support of learning networks.

How do I take part? It's as easy as 1, 2, 3...

1. To login visit www.ncsl.org.uk/nlc and click on 'join LNE', enter your talk2learn login details and the link to LNE will appear on your home page.
2. If you are not currently a member of talk2learn you will be able to register immediately by clicking on 'join LNE' at the website address given above.

Learning Networks Exchange Programme 2005-2006

Helping school leaders to spread the voice of practice

What's on in LNE....?

This programme gives details of what's on in LNE over the coming year November 2005 - April 2006.

The programme offers a choice of eight themed discussion forums. Details of the networks who are hosting the learning exchange and the theme of their contributions are also included. This is so you can make an informed choice about which of the themed discussions best meets your needs and interests, or those of your network.
